Project Management and Planning

In this Specialization, learners gained essential project management skills applicable to various industries, focusing on the fundamentals of project planning, execution, and control. The courses covered critical aspects such as project lifecycles, effective communication, team leadership, budgeting, and resource management. Through hands-on exercises and real-world scenarios, learners developed a comprehensive understanding of creating project plans, writing statements of work, and applying work breakdown structures. A Capstone Project at the end of the Specialization allowed students to integrate their knowledge and skills, preparing them to lead successful projects and adapt to challenges in dynamic work environments.
